EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

The Wall College of Business Administration recognizes the importance of providing a high quality education for its majors. Further, we recognize that a part of our responsibility is to determine how successfully we have accomplished this. For our business majors, we have identified three major content areas which we will address in terms of our curriculum and several specific objectives within that framework.

I. Perspectives

- A. To provide an understanding of the political, economic, social, legal regulatory, environmental, and technological forces which influence business activities, as well as a sensitivity to ethical considerations in making one's decisions.
- B. To promote an awareness of the international and culturally diverse nature of business.

II. Business Core Curriculum

- A. To provide an understanding of accounting, finance, production, and marketing practices and principles.
- B. To provide an understanding of general management principles and administrative skills.
- C. To develop analytical and quantitative skills.
- D. To develop oral and written communication proficiency.

III. Major Curriculum

To provide an emphasis in one chosen major field of study.

Bachelor of Science in Business Administration

A maximum of 83 credits may be applied toward satisfying the Foundation Courses and Major Requirements in Business Administration.

Students must earn a grade of C or above in each course used to satisfy Foundation Requirements. In addition, no more than 50 percent of the business courses used to satisfy the foundation and major requirements may be transferred from another institution.

One course labeled Writing Intensive (WI) must be taken by every student during each of the sophomore, junior and senior years. English 101 and 102 are designated as writing intensive courses in the freshman year.

Students pursuing a business degree will be classified as pre-business students until they have been admitted to degree candidacy in the Wall College of Business. In addition to specific prerequisite courses listed, registration for junior-senior level courses are restricted to students who have earned the appropriate number of hours as specified in the Course Listing section; i.e., 54 or more hours for 300 level classes and 84 or more for 400 level classes.

An exit exam will be administered as a part of the capstone course, CBAD 478 Strategic Management. The examination will be composed of a series of questions designed to measure a student's knowledge of key concepts drawn from the Wall College of Business Administration's curriculum.

FINAL RESPONSIBILITY FOR SATISFYING DEGREE REQUIREMENTS, AS OUTLINED IN THE UNIVERSITY CATALOG, RESTS WITH THE STUDENT.

PROFESSIONAL PROGRAM IN TEACHER EDUCATION

The chief responsibility of the Professional Program in Teacher Education in the Spadoni College of Education is to prepare teachers for early childhood, elementary, middle grades, physical education and special education (learning disabilities), licensure. Students wishing to major in Secondary Education are encouraged to contact the Office of Admissions and Program Development in the Spadoni College of Education for information leading to certification through the Master of Arts in Teaching degree. It is expected that, degree candidates will possess the necessary knowledge, skills, and dispositions required to be effective teachers. In preparation for teaching, education students must be aware that society has charged the education profession with an enormous responsibility—the care of its future through the development of its youth. Society will never allow this responsibility to be taken lightly.

CONCEPTUAL MODEL

The conceptual model of all teacher preparation programs in the Spadoni College of Education is The Teacher as Reflective Practitioner. Through this model, programs are directed toward the development of knowledge, skills, and dispositions which will insure that all candidates are highly qualified and meet all university, state, and national expectations of beginning teachers at the completion of their respective programs of study.

Reflective practitioners are seen as effective leaders, sound communicators, and competent problem solvers.

The state-mandated ADEPT framework, NCATE standards, and professional organization national standards established for educators are intertwined into our Professional Program in Teacher Education. The Reflective Practitioner model with its accompanying six knowledge and skills Performance Dimension Strands and ten target areas of Professional Dispositions provide a systematic way to instruct and evaluate candidate growth.

Six Knowledge and Skill Performance Dimensions
1. Instructional Planning	ADEPT 1,2
2. Assessment	ADEPT 3,7
3. Instruction	ADEPT 4,5
4. Classroom Management	ADEPT 4,8,9
5. Professional Growth and Ethics	ADEPT 10
6. Content	ADEPT 6

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

The Spadoni College of Education strives for the highest quality possible in the preparation of individuals for the profession of teaching. The College's programs are approved by the South Carolina State Board of Education and nationally accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE).

Field-based experiences and instruction, both sequential and incremental, are important components of each of the programs available. A number of elementary and secondary schools work closely with the College to help provide relevant and productive sites for field placements of education majors. These schools, collaborate with the College to provide the personnel, curriculum, and environments necessary to provide effective instruction for prospective teachers.

All education majors are required to submit an Electronic Portfolio as a part of the total Assessment and Evaluation System.

When the academic program is successfully completed, students will have addressed requirements toward receiving a South Carolina teaching license. Verification must be made by the Dean of the College that the student has achieved the minimum passing score on the appropriate content area Praxis II examinations. As of July 1, 2006 degree candidates must pass the PLT exam as well. The South Carolina State Board of Education also requires candidates to undergo a fingerprint review as a part of the application process for the Internship.

ADVISEMENT

Following full admission to Coastal Carolina University, students who wish to pursue a degree offered by the Spadoni College of Education will be assigned an adviser on the basis of their desired major and area of emphasis. Current students desiring to transfer to the SCOE should contact the Office of Admissions and Program Development for information and assistance.

GRADE STANDARDS

All programs in teacher education follow the prescribed grading system established by Coastal Carolina University in terms of letter grades reported. In particular, however, specific standards have been identified. These standards are as follows:

1. All students must receive the grade of C or above in English 101 and English 102.

Students can take the test by going to the web site www.coastal.edu/advising and following the links to the particular test. The student's user name is coastal and the password is teal. All first-time students must clarify their language placement status during Orientation or their initial registration. DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGY

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

Students who graduate with a B.S. in Biology are expected to have:

1. An understanding of biology as a process and a body of knowledge.
2. An appreciation of the historical development of biological concepts and the relationships among these concepts.
3. The ability to integrate biology with other disciplines.
4. Experience with inquiry, observation, data collection, analysis and problem solving.
5. Experience using general as well as sophisticated laboratory equipment, developing discipline-specific field notebooks and journals, and preparing biological reference specimens.
6. Specific knowledge regarding the diversity of life on earth.
7. Written and oral communication skills focused on appropriate dissemination of biological information.
8. Self-discipline, persistence and a willingness to perform beyond the minimum requirements of a task.

BIOLOGY MAJOR

A maximum of 55-56 credits may be applied toward satisfying the Foundation Courses and Major Requirements. Students must earn a grade of C or above in all Major Requirements.

Every student during each of the sophomore, junior and senior years must take one course labeled Writing Intensive (WI). English 101 and 102 are designated as writing intensive courses in the freshman year. In addition, every student before graduation must successfully complete one course labeled Computer Usage (CU).

A major in biology prepares students for entrance into graduate school, medical school, dental school, veterinary school and many other health-oriented professions. In addition, completion of the first two years in a program designed for biology majors prepares students for transfer to a school of pharmacy or to a school of allied health sciences. Those students interested in teaching high school biology can complete a degree in biology and then pursue the M.A.T. (Master of Arts in Teaching) offered by the Spadoni College of Education.

Other career opportunities for Coastal graduates with a biology degree include jobs with government agencies, private industries, and public health services.

Computer Science 498. The cooperative experience may be repeated two times for a total of six hours of credit.

DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

The Department of Computer Science recognizes the importance of providing a high quality education for its majors. Further, it recognizes that a part of its responsibility is to determine how successfully this has been accomplished. As a result, the department has identified the following objectives:

1. To develop an awareness of technological advances occurring in the field of computer science;
2. To develop an understanding and an appreciation for ethical behavior as it relates to information processing;
3. To provide an understanding of the theoretical foundations of computer science and the principles of algorithm design and analysis;
4. To provide an understanding of the principles of implementation and documentation of algorithms in a modern high-level structured programming language;
5. To provide an understanding of the principles, organization, and design of database management systems;
6. To provide an understanding of computer organization, computer architecture, operating systems and information structures;
7. To develop oral and written communication proficiency;
8. To develop the ability to work cooperatively as members of a team on software development projects; and
9. To provide additional knowledge in one area of emphasis involving either advanced theoretical topics or applied computer science.

To achieve these educational objectives, the computer science department offers two options.

1. The Theoretical Option requires additional courses in computer science, mathematics and the sciences. This option is designed to prepare students for graduate work in Computer Science and for computer related careers in industry.

Note: The Bachelor of Science in Computer Science with the Theoretical Option has been accredited by the Computing Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET).

- 2) The Information Systems Option requires additional courses in computer science, information systems, and business administration. This option is designed to prepare students for graduate work in Information Systems and for related positions in business and industry.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION

Cooperative Education is a mutually-beneficial partnership among students, employers and the Computer Science Department at Coastal Carolina University. Through cooperative education, computer science students can participate in full time professional work experience related to their major while earning academic credit. Thus, Cooperative Education provides an excellent way to apply skills and information learned in the classroom to a real world setting while gaining invaluable experience.

Computer Science students who have completed their first year may apply to participate in Cooperative Education by submitting a resume to the Chair of the Department of Computer Science. As in the marketplace, Cooperative Education positions are competitive. If the student's background matches the employer's needs, then the student is sent on a job interview with the prospective employer. When a student is selected, he or she registers for Computer Science 498. The cooperative experience may be repeated two times for a total of six hours of credit.

NOTEBOOK COMPUTER REQUIREMENT

As an integral part of the University’s goal to utilize and integrate technology into the teaching and learning experience, the Department of Computer Science requires all students enrolled in Computer Science 140/140L or 150/150L to have their own personal notebook computers.

COMPUTER SCIENCE MAJOR

A maximum of 66 credits may be applied toward satisfying the Foundation Courses and Major Requirements in Computer Science. Students must earn a grade of C in each course taken in the Department of Computer Science that is applied toward the Foundation, Major and Minor Requirements. One course labeled Writing Intensive (WI) must be taken by every student during each of the sophomore, junior and senior years. English 101 and 102 are designated as writing intensive courses in the freshman year.

Engineering Dual Degree Program with Clemson University

The Engineering Dual Degree program offers students the opportunity to begin their academic career by pursuing a Bachelors degree at Coastal Carolina University while preparing for an Engineering degree from Clemson University. The student will spend three years at Coastal Carolina University majoring in one of the four degrees listed below. The student will then spend two years and one summer at Clemson University majoring in one of eight engineering degrees listed below that is compatible with their major at Coastal Carolina University. While at Clemson University, the student will complete the remaining courses needed for their Coastal Carolina University degree.

Students interested in participating in this program should consult with the program director in the Department of Chemistry and Physics (Dr. Var Limpasuvan; var@coastal.edu) to plan their academic program. Students must earn a grade of C or above in all major and upper-level science courses.

One course labeled Writing Intensive (WI) must be taken by every student during each of the sophomore, junior, and senior years. English 101 and 102 are designated as writing intensive courses in the freshman year. In addition, one course labeled Computer Usage (CU) must be successfully completed by every student before graduation.

The major in Marine Science integrates the study of Biology, Chemistry, Geology, Physics and Mathematics and applies these to the marine environment. Major courses are selected from Marine Science, Biology, Chemistry, Computer Science, Geography, Geology, Mathematics, Statistics, or Physics. Students are encouraged to select an area of emphasis in either aquaculture, marine biology, coastal processes, marine analytical technology, atmosphere/ocean dynamics, or general marine science. Lecture, laboratory, and field experiences are integrated to provide a well-rounded scientific program. The facilities available for Marine Science majors include a lecture and laboratory complex, a computer research lab, ocean-going and estuarine research vessels, and a full complement of oceanographic sampling equipment. Laboratories and research projects are conducted on Waite Island, a barrier island, marsh and upland complex owned by the University. In addition, a close relationship is maintained with the University of South Carolina's Belle W. Baruch Marine Field Laboratory located near Georgetown. Students completing the program are employed as marine technicians, public health and environmental science officers, science teachers, fisheries technicians, etc. Outstanding students are encouraged to pursue graduate study.

In addition, one course labeled Computer Usage (CU) must be successfully completed by every student before graduation.

The major in applied mathematics develops a high degree of mathematical proficiency and is designed to apply mathematical knowledge to the solution of real world problems. The Department of Mathematics and Statistics offers two options leading to a B.S. degree in Applied Mathematics.

The major prepares students for a broad range of graduate programs. Students who successfully complete the applied mathematics degree will be competitive for careers in actuarial sciences, business, cryptology, government, industry, manufacturing and design, mathematical modeling, management, medicine, statistics, teaching, and space technology.

Three minors are offered -- Applied Mathematics, Statistics, and Actuarial Science. A minor in mathematics or statistics blended with another major strengthens employment opportunities as well as candidacy for graduate school.

GERONTOLOGY CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

The Gerontology Certificate program, administered through the Department of Psychology and Sociology, is designed to provide students with a foundation of knowledge and skills in the study of aging. The 21 credit hour (7 course) undergraduate certificate program is open to any degree-seeking student currently enrolled in a degree-program at the University and individuals holding a Baccalaureate degree who desire specialized studies. The multi-disciplinary nature of the program allows individuals of different interests and backgrounds to develop specializations in line with their unique needs and applicable in a rapidly growing market segment.

All candidates for a Gerontology Certificate must file a formal Application for Gerontology Certificate form during the first month of the term of graduation with the Director of Gerontology. The application forms may be obtained from the Director of Gerontology or the Office of the Registrar. Applications for summer certification are to be submitted by June 15.

Admission: Students become eligible for admission to the gerontology program upon submitting an application to the Director of the program after demonstrating satisfactory completion of 30 or more credits of college-level studies including Psychology 101 or Sociology 101. Admission to the gerontology program must take place not later than one full Fall or Spring semester before an internship placement. An internship placement will occur only after admission to the program and satisfactory completion of at least four courses in the gerontology curriculum.

Program Requirements: The program requirements are supplemental to a student's major field of study and may be taken along with the traditional degree requirements or after the degree is completed by individuals meeting the University's entrance requirements. Students pursuing a gerontology certificate while completing major field of study requirements should consult with an academic adviser in the major field of study to determine the status of gerontology program courses as electives, cognates, or major requirements. The certificate of program completion will be issued only concurrently with, or after, the accomplishment of a Baccalaureate degree.

Curriculum: The gerontology program consists of six 3-credit hour classroom experiences and one 3-credit hour supervised internship in a setting approved and arranged by the program Director.
