Gift Donations

Your library donations can be important additions to the Jackson Resource Center. We welcome your gifts but request your attention to our policy below, and ask that you read our Gift Procedures, which can be found Resource Center link on our website, http://www.coastal.edu/jacksoncenter.

The Jackson Center will send an acknowledgement letter to you indicating the total number of titles received by the library. Because the Jackson Center, by law, cannot appraise gifts, the responsibility for establishing a fair market value of a gift lies with the donor.

The Jackson Center reserves the right to dispose of any gift materials not added to its collection unless the donor indicates below to be responsible for picking up all titles not added to the collection. If such indication is noted, the donor will pick up all titles not added within 3 weeks of library notification.
