The editors welcome submissions of research papers written by current CCU undergraduate students for Issue 10 of Bridges: A Journal of Student Research.

Bridges is the undergraduate research journal at Coastal Carolina University, publishing original student scholarship across the disciplines both online and in print each year. The current issue includes essays written by students from diverse fields—Accounting, Chemistry and Physics, and English. Check it out here: http://www.coastal.edu/academics/bridges/index.html

Submission Guidelines

Who Should Submit:
- Current CCU undergraduate students enrolled in upper-level courses, Honors seminars, independent studies, and/or capstone courses who have produced a substantial research paper, project, or thesis during Spring or Fall semester of 2015.
- Students interested in distinguishing their resumes for internships, graduate school, and professional opportunities.
- Students from all disciplines and areas of study across campus.

What to Submit:
- Research/critical/scholarly papers of approximately 2,000-3,000 words in a Word document.
- Bridges follows APA format (but this is not necessary for preliminary submissions).
- Brief recommendation from the faculty sponsor affiliated with the submission.

When to Submit:
- All submissions must be received by Friday, 5 February 2016 for consideration.

How to Submit:
- Submissions are accepted via email to the Editor: kturner@coastal.edu
- Faculty endorsement letters are accepted via email to the Editor: kturner@coastal.edu

Additional information is available at www.coastal.edu/academics/bridges/contributorguidelines/

Process/Timeline:
- Submissions are first reviewed by faculty on the Editorial Review Board and then sent for review to CCU faculty specialists within the discipline.
- Students should expect to hear the status of submissions in March 2016.
- Issues are typically available online by late Spring; the print copy arrives the following Fall semester.

Have questions? Please contact us!

Keaghan Turner, Ph.D.
Editor, kturner@coastal.edu
Department of English

Clayton Whitesides, Ph.D.
Managing Editor, cwhitesid@coastal.edu
Department of Politics and Geography