GENERAL INFORMATION

Student Conduct

Responsibility for good conduct rests with students as individuals. All members of the academic community are expected to use reasonable judgment in their daily campus life to show due concern for the welfare and rights of others.

Students should be aware that educational institutions are not sanctuaries from the jurisdiction of the civil and criminal laws of the communities and states wherein such institutions exist. While the rules and regulations of Coastal Carolina University are not meant to duplicate general laws, there are some respects in which the lawful interests of the institution as an academic community coincide with the broader civic interest treated in general laws. Students who commit offenses against the laws of municipalities, states, or the United States are subject to prosecution by those authorities, as well as liable for disciplinary action under University rules when their conduct violates institutional standards.

Students, no less than other citizens, are entitled to be secure in their personal safety and welfare, lodgings, papers, and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures. This does not prohibit normal inspections of University facilities for maintenance, health, or safety purposes, nor does it preclude searches and seizures properly authorized by administrators in emergency situations where the welfare and safety of persons or property are involved. Approval for such procedures will be granted in strict accord with required legal standards. Searches and seizures by law enforcement personnel incident to investigations or arrests are conducted only under proper warrant and are not the responsibility of Coastal Carolina University.

Infractions of personal conduct are dealt with in accordance with the Code of Student Conduct. Conduct standards and sanctions are contained in The Student Handbook, located on the University's official website, Residence Life Living Guide, and the Code of Student Conduct.

The University reserves the right, in the interest of all its students, to decline admission to, suspend, or to require the withdrawal of a student after all appropriate University judicial procedures have been followed.

Students agree to abide by all rules and regulations of the University as a condition of admission.

Academic Discipline

Student violations of academic discipline are dealt with in accordance with the Code of Student Conduct. Further information is contained in the current edition of The Student Handbook, located on the University's official website

It is the policy to refuse release of non-public information from student records without the written consent of the student except as outlined in the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. (See Notification of Student Rights under Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) section of this catalog for further information.)

UNIVERSITY POLICY FOR STUDENT COMPLAINTS

The University deems it essential that all students be provided an adequate opportunity to bring complaints and problems to the attention of the administration with the assurance that they will be treated promptly, professionally, fairly, confidentially, and without fear of reprisal. If any student believes he or she has been mistreated by any member of the faculty or staff, the procedures listed below should be followed. They are intended to simplify the proper route for students to follow in complaining about any perceived mistreatment and are not intended to replace any existing grievance process for matters that may be grieved. Students who are unsure about this complaint policy are encouraged to consult with their academic advisers.

Complaints about faculty on academic matters - should be reported to the department chair or dean who supervises the professor or instructor, or inquire at the Provost's office.

Complaints about any form of perceived discrimination, including, but not necessarily limited to racial discrimination, sex discrimination, discrimination because of a disability, or sexual harassment and complaints about improper treatment by any university employee - should be reported to the Vice President for Organizational Development and Human Resources.

Complaints about admissions, any registration problem, or financial aid - should be reported to the office of the Vice President for Enrollment Services.

Complaints about billings or accounts receivable - should be reported to the Office of the Bursar.

All other complaints on non-academic matters, including complaints about treatment by other students - should be reported to the office of the Vice President for Student Affairs or the Office of the Dean of Students.

If any student with a complaint does not receive satisfaction from any of the above-listed offices, the student should bring his or her complaint directly to the office of the President of the University.
