Grants and Awards

Faculty in the Department of History secured a total of $95,080 in grant funding during the 2010/11 academic year. More than half the total, or $55,906, was awarded by separate agencies in two separate grants, one that sponsored faculty-student research in South Korea and one that supported archaeological work in Egypt. Another $17,999 was secured from the Professional Enhancement Grant Program funded by Coastal Carolina University. The remaining $21,175 was secured by faculty from other sources of grant and award funding from within and outside of the University. Common to all of these grant awards, regardless of their source, is that they all were for the support of faculty scholarship initiatives and, therefore, reflect a commitment to scholarship that produces a record of accomplishment as noted under “Scholarship” above.
