OLLI Putt-Putt Club, B. Clark

Join your fellow OLLI members in weekly putt-putt outings to local courses at a discounted rate. Meet new friends while perfecting your game. Organizational meeting March 5 at noon at the Conway center, followed by ten weeks of play at different courses, meeting at 10:00 a.m. each Thursday. $5

OLLI Bowling League

Hit the lanes with your fellow OLLI members and strike up some fun! What better way to spend your spare time? 810Bowling (around the corner from our Conway location) is giving us a great deal: two games, shoe rental, and tax included for $8.60! Mondays from 3 to 5:00 p.m., Feb. 17-May 11. $5

Two NEW Series coming to Litchfield Education Center

The Artist’s Way

Meet local celebrities from the fine arts and learn how they found their way into the arts, the way they view their craft, and the way they create. Bring your own lunch and enjoy watching artists in action.

Our first guest artist will be Barnie Slice on February 17 from 12 to 12:50 p.m. Register for this first session of our new series under this code: XART 299 L01. The cost is $5.

The Chef’s Life

We are currently organizing what we hope will be a hit with our members. In this proposed series, area chefs and restaurateurs will share their stories and a recipe or two. Those who attend the lecture can then make plans to visit the restaurant, together or separately. Occasionally, we may make the meal part of the price for the class.

New Estate Planning Workshop in Conway

Estate Planning: Decisions for Now and Tomorrow

In conjunction with the Coastal Planned Giving Advisory Council, OLLI is offering this workshop March 24-26 from 3 to 5 p.m. With OLLI membership, the cost is $45. See last page of the newsletter for more details.

Correction: The War and Society Colloquia, sponsored by the Department of History on Fridays, starts at 2:00 p.m. on Fridays. The correct time is posted on p. 5 of the catalog; however, there is an error in the At-a-Glance section. John Navin will present on Feb.7, Brandon Palmer on Feb. 21, and Thomas Castillo on March 6. All lectures begin at 2:00 p.m.
Big or Small, Be Kind to All

In order to help our furry friends who have it “ruff” OLLI@CCU will collect food and supplies for our local animal shelters during the month of February.

We have specific wish lists for each location at our outreach centers. Supplies may be dropped off in Conway and Litchfield.

We have something special coming up soon in Conway and Litchfield

Low Country Food Bank Craft Fair
Sunday, February 9, 2020

Come to the Base Recreation Center (next to the HGTC Culinary Building, 800 Gabreski Lane, Market Common) between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. and marvel at the crafts of over 100 vendors! Your entrance fee to the fair is non-perishable food for families and/or pets. This is the 6th year of this worthy event. Not only will you be contributing to the Low Country Food Bank, but you will be supporting the local arts (and most likely leaving with some awesome crafts).

St. Lawrence String Quartet
Monday, Feb. 3, 7:30 p.m.

The award-winning St. Lawrence String Quartet is renowned for the intensity of its performances, the breadth of its repertoire, and its commitment to concert experiences that are intellectually exciting and emotionally alive.

Don’t miss this opportunity to see Geoff Nuttall, Owen Dalby, Lesley Robertson and Christopher Costanza live!

From the Director

Thanks to the 25 OLLI members who have signed up for the Washington, D.C. trip so far. Because of your early registration, we were able to confirm our reservation at the Mayflower Hotel and secure a suitable motor coach. We still have room for more. The fact that 10 people who went on the 2017 trip to D.C. have enrolled a second time should show the rest of you that this trip is going to be great! Don’t miss a chance to learn from one of our favorite instructors, Joseph Fitsanakis, and to see parts of D.C. that you probably haven’t visited before.

Because of the popularity of our excursions to Mepkin Abbey, the Charleston Tea Plantation, Hobcaw Barony and the Yawkey Wildlife Center, which filled up fast, we have scheduled additional trips to the Tea Plantation on April 20, Yawkey on March 18, and Hobcaw on May 6. We are waiting for Mepkin Abbey to tell us whether they prefer allowing more folks to visit on March 3 or scheduling a separate trip. As soon as waitlisted members are contacted, we will be opening the new trips to the rest of you. Stay tuned.

I’d like to call your attention to several classes that are scheduled to begin during early February. Sarah Jackson, who is currently helping us with website renovations and graphic design, has created a wonderful addition to the curriculum, Security and Social Media, which she will offer at both locations. John Tracy, who is currently enriching my film class with his vast knowledge, is offering Amazing Films in Conway, and Litchfield is providing a wide variety of options in arts and crafts: From Log to Bowl, Valentine’s Wind Chimes, Pottery, and Felted Soap. Sweetgrass Baskets, Jewelry Making, and Encaustic Painting are coming later in February in Litchfield, and in Conway, arts and crafts aficionados can choose from Needle Felting, Pine Needle Creations, Painting on Silk, Sweetgrass Baskets and Origami. Check out February courses in Geography, History, Dance, Drumming, Nutrition and Health as well. OLLI certainly offers great variety in its curriculum!
