Doctor of Philosophy in Marine Science: Coastal and Marine Systems Science
DISSertation GUIDELINES AND SUBMISSION

An approved dissertation is a mandatory component of the requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy in Marine Science: Coastal and Marine Systems Science. The dissertation is a permanent record of the independent research and creative work that is an integral part of this degree. Since the dissertation will be preserved and shared with other scholars and professionals, high standards must be upheld concerning the form and appearance.

A dissertation is based on original research that is approved by the degree candidate’s Graduate Advisory Committee. Questions about research and about the Graduate Advisory Committee should be directed to the Graduate Faculty Advisor or the MSCI Associate Chair of Graduate Programs. When a degree candidate completes their dissertation, it must be reviewed by their Graduate Advisory Committee and defended before them.

It is recommended that the defense of the dissertation be conducted no less than sixty days (60) before the date the degree candidate expects to receive their degree to ensure sufficient time for revisions.

Generally, the dissertation body should consist of an introduction, literature review, methods, results and discussion, and a concluding section. This structure can occur by chapter or overall; but the dissertation must contain these elements within the body. The form and appearance of the dissertation must comply with the dissertation guidelines specified below. Note that the dissertation must be written in English.

Typestyles: Any legible 12-point font can be acceptable, but styles with serifs are recommended because they normally have greater legibility. Font type should be consistent throughout the manuscript. Typefaces that are overly ornate or difficult to read cannot be accepted. Please use boldface sparingly. If you have any questions about acceptable type styles, please contact your Graduate Faculty Advisor.

Margins:
- Left margins must be one- and one-half inches (1 ½”) throughout, including appendixes, charts, figures, tables, etc.
- Right margins must be one inch throughout.
- Top margins: The first page of all chapters must have two-inch margins at the top. All other pages must have one-inch margins at the top.
- Bottom margins must be one inch throughout.
- Landscape pages should have 1.5” top margins rather than left margins. All other margins are 1”.

Spacing: The text of the manuscript must be double-spaced.

Pagination: Use lowercase Roman numerals to number introductory pages (title page, acknowledgements, dedication, etc.) with the title page bearing no number but included in the sequence. A table of contents is required, listing all preliminary pages, chapter or section headings, list of references, and appendixes (if any). Arabic numerals are to be used to number the remaining pages of the text, including appendixes. Placement of page numbers must be consistent (bottom-center or upper-right corner) and always one-half inch from the edge of the page. (See the page arrangement guideline at the end of this document)

References: A list of references must be appended to the dissertation, either by chapter or overall. It must list (alphabetically by authors*) all references that you cited. For the form of entries, consult a style manual.

Nomenclature: All variables, abbreviations, and acronyms must be defined in an alphabetized list at the start of the dissertation or at the start of each chapter.

Equations: All equations should be numbered by chapter or overall.

Title page: The title page must follow the format of the template provided on the MSCI graduate forms webpage.

Revised May 2024
Doctor of Philosophy in Marine Science: Coastal and Marine Systems Science

☐ Ensure you have submitted a graduation application.

☐ Defended your dissertation and received final approval of any revisions of your dissertation by your Graduate Faculty Advisor and Graduate Advisory Committee.

☐ The approved dissertation must be uploaded to http://www.coastal.edu/forms/manuscripts.php no later than 5 days preceding either the commencement or the last day of final exams to graduate within that semester. List your Graduate Advisor as the “Committee Chair” on the submission site.

Direct any questions regarding the preparation of your dissertation to your Graduate Faculty Advisor or the MSCI Associate Chair of Graduate Programs. Deviations from this format can be approved by the MSCI Associate Chair of Graduate Programs if sufficiently justified. It is recommended that you have the formatting of the dissertation checked by the Associate Chair prior to final submission to avoid delays in the approval process.
