Understanding when my instructor teaches a hybrid class

The instructor teaches a hybrid class. Part of the class is traditionally in person according to the scheduled day/time. Part of the class is online.

In Person
- All students are participating at the same time according to the scheduled day/time.

Online
- All students are also participating online for part of the class.

Professor Locality: Varies.
Student Locality: Varies.
Class Temporality: The class is both synchronous (all students participate during the scheduled class time) and asynchronous (self-paced work according to deadlines).

During the 2020 fall semester, individuals choose whether to be in person or online and participate during the scheduled day/time.
