POLICY:

I. DEFINITIONS

   A. Discretionary funds – a set amount of money or portion of a budget that is set aside for the purchase of things which may not be necessary, but may be useful or beneficial.

   B. South Carolina Procurement Code (SC Code 11-35-10) – a section of law for the underlying purposes of:
      1. providing increased economy in state procurement activities and maximizing to the fullest extent practicable the purchasing values of funds, while also ensuring that procurements are the most advantageous to the state and in compliance with the provisions of the Ethics, Government Accountability, and Campaign Reform Act;
      2. fostering effective broad-based competition for public procurement within the free enterprise system;
3. developing procurement capability responsive to appropriate user needs;
4. consolidating, clarifying and modernizing the law governing procurement in this state and permitting the continued development of explicit and thoroughly considered procurement policies and practices;
5. requiring the adoption of competitive procurement laws and practices by units of state and local governments;
6. ensuring the fair and equitable treatment of all persons who deal with the procurement system which will promote increased public confidence in the procedures followed in public procurement;
7. providing safeguards for the maintenance of a procurement system of quality and integrity with clearly defined rules for ethical behavior on the part of all persons engaged in the public procurement process; and
8. developing an efficient and effective means of delegating roles and responsibilities to the various government procurement officers.

C. Prudent Person Test – an assessment of action(s) based on what a hypothetical “prudent person” would do; the prudent person acts sensibly, does things without serious delay, and takes proper, but not excessive, precautions.

D. State Appropriations Act – legislative action that allows the state to spend money. A new act is proposed each year and is available on the South Carolina Legislature website: http://www.scstatehouse.gov/budget.php.

E. State funds – any funds expended by the University, regardless of source, are considered State Funds.

II. EXPENDITURE POLICY

A. The Expenditure Policy explains the numerous funds from which expenditures are drawn at Coastal Carolina University. Included in the description of each fund are limitations imposed on disbursements by state mandates and by University rules. In some cases, the restrictions governing the expenditure arise from state law, federal regulations or precedent from written and/or verbal interpretation from various state offices and agencies.

B. Public opinion should also be considered as a factor in developing guidelines for appropriate expenditures. To this end, the Prudent Person Test (see sections I.C., and II.D.) has been developed to apply the criterion of public opinion to the expenditure of funds which are not otherwise controlled by state or federal regulations.

C. It is recognized that modifications in interpretation of laws by state officials and shifts in public opinion occur continually, and the University’s expenditure policy must offer sufficient flexibility to accommodate the changing environment while still maintaining consistency. The rules governing the expenditure of each fund are included with the description of the fund in the outline of the accounts below.
D. All funds – there are certain policies which apply to all funds, regardless of source:

1. Compensation for personal services must always be according to state regulations and the provisions of the Accounts Payable policy (FAST-BUFA 202).
2. Honoraria is allowed under any fund pursuant to the Honoraria Policy (FAST-BUFA 203).
3. University travel authorizations and reimbursements must adhere to the regulations set forth in the Travel – Authorizations and Reimbursement policy (FAST-BUFA 201).
4. Any non-salary expenses considered allowances or benefits to employees are subject to limitations and provisions of law applicable to the expenditure of State General Fund appropriations.
5. All expenditures should be reasonable, appropriate and justifiable.
6. Documentation of expenditures must be explicit, and the business purpose either evident or stated.
7. Object code 5501-Supplies should be used when purchasing items to be used for resale, such as for fundraising activities.
8. Object codes 5527 and 5343 must be used for all food and travel expenses related to candidates.
9. Object code 5515-Computer-Faculty Initiative should be used for all technology purchases $5,000 or under that will be reimbursed by IT lottery funds.
10. Object code 5609 should be used for all equipment/vehicle purchases over $5,000 (for example, $5,000.01), not just for technology purchases. Also include in the 5609 object code all costs necessary to put the asset into service (such as tax, shipping, etc.).
11. For equipment/vehicle purchases of $5,000 or less, shipping should be charged separately to object code 5392-Freight. The sales/use tax should be charged to the same object code that you used for the asset you purchased.
12. Documentation for all expenditures, no matter the fund, must contain a detailed explanation of the business purpose.

E. Operational budget funds (fund group 10)

1. These are funds appropriated by the State Legislature and allocated for the operating budget, along with collections from regular-term tuition, matriculation and registration charges.
2. Expenditures from these funds must follow the State Procurement Code.
3. Expenditures from these funds are governed by the current year’s State Appropriations Act and by guidelines from the State Comptroller General.
4. Funds from a 10 account do not carry forward from year to year.
5. Generally, food and beverage expenses are not allowed in 10 funds. However, there are certain exceptions to the food and beverage rule, such as:
a. commencement-related activities
b. meals for individuals while in travel status (see FAST-BUFA 201)
c. Board of Trustees official functions
d. candidate interviews
e. student activities, including retreats that are provided for and offered to students
f. activities and programs offered by recognized student organizations
g. student-centered events or programs for the purposes of recognizing student accomplishments, and/or developing community and/or promoting interaction between students and faculty or staff
h. student focus groups with the intent of garnering student input and feedback on University programs or operations
i. University-sponsored student clubs and activities
j. other special uses as approved by the President or the President’s designee

6. Moving and relocation expenses may be charged to a 10 account.
7. Generally, funds from a 10 account may not be transferred to another fund unless the other fund is also subject to the State Procurement Code.
8. Alcoholic beverages may not be charged to a 10 account.

F. To ensure that expenditures conform to the requirements of ethics regulations, public opinion, and institutional and individual integrity, the Prudent Person Test has been devised to furnish guidelines with respect to the below-listed funds. The Prudent Person Test is not all inclusive; individual discretion and good judgment concerning the relationship of the expenditure to the welfare of the University must be exercised. Reimbursements may be prohibited under the ethics regulations depending upon the circumstances. For example, a University employee cannot be reimbursed for the meal of an employee from another state agency regardless of the fund source. Questions of compliance with the Ethics Act should be referred to University Legal Counsel.

T. Appeals

The Office of Financial Services reviews submitted expenditures for compliance with this policy. Any determination by the Office of Financial Services may be appealed to the President’s Council. Appeals should be made in writing, include supporting documentation, and be delivered to the appropriate President’s Council member, who will, in turn, present the appeal to the President’s Council. The President’s Council will review requests to appeal and make a recommendation to the Executive Vice President when the expenditure is $500 or less or to the President when the expenditure is more than $500. All decisions by the Executive Vice President or the President are final.
