Professor: Dr. David Carter
Email: dcarter7@coastal.edu
Office Location: Sands 123
Office Hours: T/Th 12:15PM-2:15PM; By Email Appointment
Meeting Date and Time: W – 1:00PM-2:15PM

Course Materials
- 3 Ring Binder (1 ½ in) /paper/writing utensil

Course Description
- MTM 502 Music Technology Pedagogy. (0 credits) This course is for graduate students in the Master of Arts in Music Technology Program. Examines the philosophy, techniques, and materials needed to teach music technology in both a K-12 and post-secondary institutional setting. Covers topics such as: educational philosophies and theories, classroom management approaches, and performance-based assessment techniques for incorporating music technology in the classroom setting. F, as needed

Course Instructional Objectives
The students will:

- develop knowledge of common education pedagogies, philosophies and the applications of those theories for teaching music technology in both a K-12 and post-secondary institutional setting
- develop instructional strategies relating to individual learning styles to meet the needs of exceptional, diverse, and culturally diverse learners while teaching music technology
- analyze current issues and trends with music technology in the K-12 and post-secondary educational settings
- discuss music resources and materials appropriate for teaching music technology in the K-12 and post-secondary educational settings
- analyze the Music Technology National and State Music Education Standards

Grading Scale
Grading for this course is S/U [Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory].

- S = 70%-100%
- U = Less than 70%

Grade Breakdown:
- Attendance: 60%
- Socratic Seminars/Class Discussions: 30%
- Reflective Responses: 10%

Attendance
The instructor will impose a penalty, including assigning the grade of Unsatisfactory (U), for excused or unexcused absences in excess of 25% of the regularly scheduled class meetings per the university absence policy at: https://www.coastal.edu/policies/pdf/stud-332-may2020.pdf. The student is responsible for the content of a missed class, regardless of the reason for absence.

Assignments
- All reflective responses are due at the beginning of class on the specified date due.
- Preparation for class is expected and required – the reading of assignments and participation in activities are also considered assignments.

Academic Dishonesty
Coastal Carolina University operates on a code of conduct with clear definitions of plagiarism and cheating. This code of conduct can be found at http://www.coastal.edu/conduct. Please refer to this policy for the procedures used to adjudicate cases of cheating and plagiarism, as well as other violations of student codes of conduct. Any actions that violate this code of conduct will result in an unsatisfactory (U) for this course.

Student Support
To receive academic accommodations for this class, please obtain the proper forms and meet with me to discuss the provisions of those accommodations as soon as possible, preferably within the first two weeks of class. Coastal Carolina University is committed to equitable access and inclusion of individuals with disabilities in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act. Individuals seeking reasonable accommodations should contact Accessibility & Disability Services (843) 349-2503 or https://www.coastal.edu/disabilityservices/).

Student Success in the Edwards College of Humanities and Fine Arts (CoHFA)
CoHFA's Director of Student Success, Recruitment, and Career Transition, Kaitlyn Maines-Presley, will host drop-in hours every Tuesday and Thursday from 3-4:30 PM. Kaitlyn can assist CoHFA students with the following: general questions, understanding university and/or college policies, student advocacy, major/internship/career exploration and planning, goal setting, finding campus involvement opportunities, etc. Additionally, various student success events will be held throughout the academic year. Kaitlyn may direct students to other campus resources based on their level of need but will help and support when able.

Please email Kaitlyn to set up an appointment if the drop-in hours mentioned above are outside of your availability. Her email is: kmpresley@coastal.edu.