Advanced (A) Level Examinations

Cambridge Advanced International Certificate of Education AS and A Level Examinations

Coastal Carolina University recognizes the Cambridge Advanced International Certificate of Education (AICE) as a rigorous and challenging program and will provide credit after the student is enrolled as a baccalaureate degree seeking student. Credit awarded at Coastal Carolina University is dependent upon the scores received on the Advanced Subsidiary (AS) Level and Advanced (A) Level examinations. Coastal Carolina University will only award credit for AICE passing grades of A through E on both the AS and A level examinations.

High school students earning the Cambridge Advanced International Certificate of Education (AICE) may earn college credit for the completion of Advanced Subsidiary (AS) Level and Advanced (A) Level examinations.

Listed below are examples of some of the AS and A level examinations for which Coastal Carolina University may award credit. AICE AS and A level examinations not listed in the provided charts may be awarded credit, but will require departmental review on an individual basis. See your academic advisor to determine how the credit may apply to your academic program.
